Free Help for Adult Students

Whether you are returning to school, studying for the GED or preparing to take your citizenship test, the Adult Education Center from Tutor.com can help. Service is provided by:

"The tutors here are a great help. I am new to math, and they patiently answer any question I have, big or small. Without this service I would be failing in my College Intro Math class. I am a working mom, so I have to study at night, and having this service available this late is a godsend. Thank you"

Online Tutoring Puts Help At Your Fingertips

Adults returning to school can connect to academic tutors for help in core subjects including math, science, English, writing, social studies, English as a second language, and Microsoft Office. Adults who are preparing for the GED/HiSET/TASC or citizenship test can connect to tutors for personalized assistance.

You and your tutor work in real time in a secure, online classroom and everything is anonymous. You use an interactive whiteboard and chat with your tutor to work through your questions. After each session, you can replay and email the session, or print the transcript.

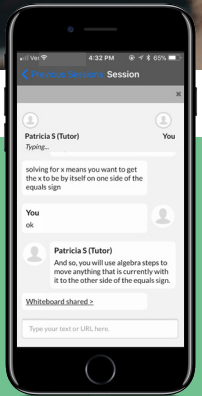

Around-the-Clock Help from Rich Resources

In the SkillsCenter™ Resource Library, you have access to thousands of searchable resources—chosen by experts to meet your needs.

- Access to GED/HiSET/TASC resources, citizenship test prep materials and more
- Resources for computer literacy, financial literacy and helping children with homework

On the road and need help?

No problem—you can connect to the Adult Education Center and a tutor using your smartphone.

Convenient and Accessible

The Adult Education Center gives you the option to create a personal account so you can connect to your favorite career tutor again and again from any Internet-enabled device. You can also store sessions in your locker so that you can review them at any time.
